1.0 Purpose

Virginia Tech values and depends upon private philanthropic support from generous donors to support its vision, mission, and strategic goals. Virginia Tech strives to continue growing private support consistent with industry best practices and in a culture that is donor-driven, innovative, and metric-driven. Planning and collaboration are essential to successful fundraising efforts and to ensuring a coordinated, effective, and donor-centered approach to potential donors in the name of the university. To maximize the effectiveness of Virginia Tech's fundraising efforts, as well as to optimize resources, this policy provides a framework for all private fundraising done on behalf of Virginia Tech by faculty, staff, students, groups or units affiliated with Virginia Tech.

2.0 Policy

The establishment of fundraising priorities and oversight of private fundraising rests with the President. The President has delegated the oversight of private fundraising activities to the Vice President for Advancement. The Vice President for Advancement leads the central office that coordinates all fundraising activities among the various offices representing the university and its diverse colleges and programs. The Advancement Division is responsible for planning, organizing, and conducting programs to obtain private gift support, and all areas involved in fundraising shall strive to develop a close working relationship that ensures a coordinated effort in fundraising activities. The Vice President for Advancement coordinates and has oversight of hiring decisions for professionals throughout the university.

All private fundraising efforts, including crowdfunding or projects undertaken by any individual associated with Virginia Tech (current employees, students, etc.) planning to use a third-party crowdfunding or crowdsourcing vendor portal, or service provider, should be coordinated through the Advancement Division prior to initiating such activities in order to ensure that such activities fit within the overall fundraising strategy for the university and ensure a coordinated, donor-centered approach to solicitation.

This policy does not apply to student fundraising activities unless the fundraising activities involve a direct solicitation of alumni and friends of Virginia Tech, a crowdfunding campaign or project, or requests for gifts of $1,000 or greater. This policy also does not apply to sponsored program applications or proposals that are coordinated through the Office of Sponsored Programs.

3.0 Procedures

1. Fundraising priorities for the university shall be established by the President and Provost, in consultation with the appropriate Deans and Directors and the Vice President for Advancement.
